

Wednesday 30th June 2021

#LOCKDOWNSYDNEY
Maandowie Bush Reserve, Loftus

It had rained overnight and cloud hung in the valley so we opted to do our “isolation walk” on fire trails, close to home, noting that by 1.00pm the weather forecast predicted more rain. Now this area links to a series of walking tracks and fire trails throughout the entire Woronora Valley so the distance we walked can vary. Today we walked down from the end of Cranberry St, keeping Maandowie Creek on our right, turned left up to Viburnum Rd (right where Gary Dunnett lives!), retreated and then walked out to Camp Wanawong before heading back to the car. I guess we walked 4km all up!

Trema tomentosa var. viridis – Native Peach

Female Golden Whistler

Striated Thornbill

And we were home by 11.00am, well before the next showers were due to hit us.

Brian Everingham